

THE HEALING GENERATION

As our mother earth continues her transformation she tells us of her delicate natures. From the floods, earthquakes, and a growing hole in the ozone ~ to the damaged rainforest, polluted water, and the receding of her glaciers.

It seems she shows us how to live by the cycles of her seasons. With the passing of her wintertime come the seeds of rejuvenation.

We can learn a lot from her as we unite the four directions, for the moon has cast its shadow on the sun to signify that spring has sprung.

The Elders have shared of a great prophecy that began the process of healing, we must turn to the Creators love to show him we are kneeling.

There were tales and tales of story line passed down to help us learn. From the pain in my people's faces I can see it's the stories that the people yearn.

It becomes our responsibility to face the children's needs. We must do all we can do to plant their future seeds.

As we face the new millennium with all our anticipation, we can change the world, we the seventh generation.

*Blaine A Wood
Cherokee*

INDIANS IN PRISON WALKING THE RED ROAD